

Privacy Policy

RAPHAEL Valves Industries (1975) Ltd.

Last Updated: 26.2.26

RAPHAEL Valves Industries (1975) Ltd. ("the Company", "we") respects the privacy of visitors to www.raphael-valves.com (the "Website").

1. Information We Collect

The Website is primarily a corporate informational website.

We may collect:

- Contact details voluntarily submitted through contact forms (name, company, title, email, phone).
- Technical data automatically collected during browsing (IP address, browser type, general usage data).
- Analytics data used for performance measurement and website improvement.

The Website does not collect sensitive personal data and does not provide user accounts.

2. Purpose of Processing

Information is processed solely for:

- Responding to inquiries
- Establishing business communication
- Improving Website functionality
- Protecting the Company's legal rights

We do not sell personal data.

3. Third-Party Service Providers

We may use standard technology providers (such as hosting and analytics providers). Any such processing is limited to operational purposes and conducted in accordance with applicable law.

4. International Data Transfers

As an international company, data may be processed or stored outside the visitor's country of residence, in accordance with applicable data protection laws.

5. Data Security

We implement reasonable and customary security measures.

However, no internet transmission or storage system can be guaranteed to be fully secure.

6. Data Subject Rights

Individuals may contact us to request access, correction, or deletion of personal data, subject to applicable law.

Contact: info@raphael-valves.com

7. Updates

We may update this Privacy Policy from time to time.

The version published on the Website shall prevail.